

Questions to be directed to:
Michael Wray and Dima Damen
Department of Computer Science
uob-ego4d-info@bristol.ac.uk

Data Collection – Public Advertisement

Would you like to be involved in a paid data collection exercise using a head-mounted GoPro camera?

We will send you the camera with headmount (above), and you will record 5 hours at home some of your daily activities, like the footage below.

Reward: £250 on the receipt of all footage and consent forms.

You are eligible to participate if:

- you are 25+ years old and a UK citizen/national.
- you live with at least one more person [25+] who also agrees to participate in the data collection
- you are able to devote time in August/September to participate in the recording

We expect you to:

- sign agreement and consent forms to release the data for research in Computer Vision
- participate in multiple video calls to learn how to record using this camera
- engage in the discussion to agree on what daily activities you would record [based on your preferences and our needs]
- record 5 hours of activities within 2 weeks of receiving the camera by post.
- upload the footage, and post the camera back to us

Interested?– Email us now at: uob-ego4d-info@bristol.ac.uk with the following information:

- post address
- full names [of yourself and at least one more person you live with who will participate in the recording].