University of BRISTOL

PhD Research Studentship – Computer Vision

Type of award	PhD Research Studentship
Department	Computer Science
Details	Available from late September 2013 Studentship covers full UK/EU PhD tuition fees and a tax-free stipend at the EPSRC rate (£13,726 in 2013/14)
Duration	3.5 years
Eligibility	Home/EU applicants only Minimum of 2:1 honours degree (or equivalent) in Computer Science, Electrical Engineering or other relevant subjects.
Deadline	open until filled

PhD Topic Background/Description

Applications are invited for a fully-funded PhD studentship in Computer Vision. The successful candidate will be working on a project focused on video monitoring for healthcare in residential environments.

Research into human activity recognition is a major part of computer vision. This area focuses on describing, learning and recognising interactions between individuals, as well as between an individual and his/her surrounding environment. This capability would lead to the automatic logging and analysis of a person's daily activities, including online monitoring of any changes in the person's routine across time.

Further Particulars

Candidate Requirements

A candidate with solid mathematical ability and excellent programming skills is required for this studentship. A basic knowledge of Computer Vision and/or machine learning would be very useful.

Studentship Details

The position will commence from late September 2013 with funding available for 3.5 years. The appointed candidate will receive a full EPSRC studentship (£13,726 in 2013-14). The stipend is tax-free.

Informal enquiries

If you wish to discuss any details of the project informally, please contact Dima Damen by emailing damen@cs.bris.ac.uk

For general enquiries, please email gsen-pgrs@bristol.ac.uk

Application Details

To apply for this studentship submit a PhD application using our online application system [www.bristol.ac.uk/pg-howtoapply]

Please ensure that in the Funding section you tick "I would like to be considered for a funding award from the Department" and specify the title of the scholarship in the "other" box below.

Apply now